5. Encourage session signups

Employers will not be able to invite students directly to their schedules, students will be responsible for signing up for all sessions. The sooner your teammates can claim their schedules, the better, as this allows students to see more options for signup. You can view empty and taken schedules within the Schedule tab.

8. Follow up with students after the fair

After your sessions are over, follow up with participants! You can send messages in Handshake, download resumes, and Host Virtual Interviews. For more information, see Following Up After a Virtual Fair.
Has Handshake thought of how this feature will accommodate needs of small local employers as well as massive employers?

Scheduling will honor employer preferences. For smaller and local employers we will recommend group sessions to reach as many students as possible. A large employer may have the resources to send multiple representatives that can create 1:1 availability throughout the day.

How will students and employers connect?

- There are two modes of virtual fair engagement:
  - 30-minute group sessions
  - Handshake video: can support up to 50 participants total
  - External video platform link: if the employer prefers their own video platform for large group sessions or expects to engage with more than 50 participants in group sessions
- 10 minute 1:1 sessions
  - Hosted via Handshake video or external video platform (can be changed to an external link individually after the schedule is created).
  - The length of both of these sessions cannot be updated in the first version of virtual fairs.

Can employers ask custom questions before students sign up for 1:1 sessions?

- No, employers can’t ask custom questions as a part of student registration.

Will students be able to leave or join a session after it’s started?

- Students can leave sessions up until the time that it is scheduled. We will show them a warning whenever they cancel a session, to promote professional behavior.
- Students can now sign up for and join a virtual fair group session after it has started (join a groups session late).
  - NOTE: This is currently available to students accessing Handshake via a browser. It’ll be released on iOS and Android in the coming weeks.

What happens if an employer representative has to cancel their attendance?

- The employer will need to cancel any specific sessions for that rep and add a different person to the fair for 1:1s, or they may transfer a 1:1 schedule to a colleague that isn't already selected to participate in the fair.
- For group sessions, they could just add the new representative.

Can students follow employers with no schedule?

- If a registered employer hasn’t yet set up their virtual fair schedule, students viewing a list of available sessions will see the option to follow that employer. If they do, they’ll get an email when the employer’s schedule is posted.
